IN THE COMMUNITY

THE SEATTLE MARINERS COMMITMENT TO THE COMMUNITY

Serving our communities has always been a pillar of the Seattle Mariners mission.

We use our unique voice, trusted partnerships, and the inspirational power of baseball to ensure that everyone in our region can thrive. Baseball is about working together as a team to become better and stronger every day, and we bring this same spirit to our engagement with communities throughout the Pacific Northwest. Since the Mariners' nonprofit foundation was established in 1991, more than $29 million has been raised to benefit primarily youth-oriented community service programs, and we focus our efforts in three areas:

- Ensuring Access to Baseball and Softball For All
- Advancing Equity and Justice
- Making Our Hometown More Healthy and Vibrant

Ensuring Access to Baseball and Softball for All:

The Foundation funds efforts to make baseball and softball more accessible to all young people in our region. Our vision is barrier free baseball and softball at every age and stage. This includes Mariners-sponsored initiatives and community partnerships, like:

- On BASE (Baseball And Softball Everywhere) programs such as the Equipment Donation Grant, youth instructional camps, and coaches clinics
- Hometown Nine youth baseball and softball advanced development & leadership program
- Free camps and clinics hosted in partnership with Mariners Training Centers across the Mariners 5 state region
- Nike RBI partnerships with Baseball Beyond Borders in Washington, Friends of Baseball in Oregon and Gamers Alaska
- Metro Parks Tacoma Elementary League

What we've accomplished so far:

- Granted $250,000 across 50 high school baseball & softball programs
- Committed financial, academic, professional, and socio-emotional support to 36 Hometown Nine Fellows
    - o Including partnering with Baseball Beyond Borders to host the 2023 RBI West Regional Tournament in Seattle, helping bridge social & economic gaps within our community and empower families through the power of play
- Provided free or low-cost baseball & softball camps and free Play Ball Clinics with high quality instruction for youth across the Pacific Northwest
- Expanded our geographical reach to support under-resourced schools and programming across Washington & Oregon
- Offered free sports sampling camps in partnership with the King County Play Equity Coalition
- Provided complimentary tickets to 171 different nonprofit organizations (including 47 new organizations in 2023) through the MLB Commissioner's Community Initiative and Starbucks My First Mariners Game programs
- Partnered with MLB to contribute more than $2 million to address equity gaps and expand access to youth baseball & softball

Advancing Equity and Justice:

The Mariners work to support all people in their right to succeed in school, work, and life. We are joined in these efforts by our Community Impact Grant partners, which include 2023 grantees such as:

- Rainier Athletes
- Hopes and Dreams Foundation
- Sustainable Seattle
- Southeast Youth & Family Services

IN THE COMMUNITY

What we've accomplished and highlights from 2023:

- Contributed more than $702,500 to date in equity commitment investments as part of the Mariners commitment to social justice
- Supported Sustainable Seattle's community activations in Ballard, West Seattle, and Columbia City neighborhoods
- Participated in Southeast Youth & Family Services Day event in June and provided funds via Mariners Care Foundation Cyber Monday auction
- Provided in-kind support to Rainier Athletes "Shape the Future" fundraising event, benefitting nearly 4,000 youth served by the organization
- Facilitated access opportunities for Hopes and Dreams Foundation clients to attend Mariners home games at no cost

Making Our Hometown More Healthy & Vibrant:

The Mariners prioritize causes that attract the passion and energy of our staff and players in communities across the Pacific Northwest and beyond. These efforts include:

- The 2023 MLB All-Star Game Legacy initiative
- Our longstanding partnership with the Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence
- The Mariners Community All-Stars program
- Support of the King County Play Equity Coalition as part of the SEA Equity Alliance with our professional sports teams in Seattle

What we've accomplished and 2023 highlights:

- Committed to multi-year funding through the All Star Legacy Initiative to UWKC Bridge To Finish program and Seattle Colleges Foundation Equity Can't Wait scholarship program, supporting Shoreline College's Benefits Hub with resources for financial support, meals, transportation, and/or housing assistance to remove barriers to degree attainment
- Helped raise more than $109,000 in 2023 through the annual Refuse to Abuse 5K run and walk at T-Mobile Park
- Launched 50/50 Raffle program to support efforts of the Mariners' nonprofit foundation and select nonprofit partners

Additionally, Mariners players, coaches, and families join in supporting a wide variety of causes throughout our community, including:

- J.P. Crawford: Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities, Hometown Nine, WSCADV Refuse to Abuse Campaign
- Cal Raleigh: PLAY Campaign, Hometown Nine, Boys & Girls Clubs of King County
- Julio Rodríguez: Make-A-Wish Alaska & Washington, Stand Up To Cancer
- Scott Servais: OkanDogs Animal Rescue Service, Hometown Nine
- Mariners Families Charities: Seattle Children's, Seattle Angels, Ronald McDonald House

OUR MISSION

We are dedicated to winning championships, creating unforgettable experiences and serving our communities.

FRONT OFFICE

OFFICERS

JOHN STANTON

Chairman & Managing Partner

John Stanton is the Mariners Chairman & Managing Partner. He was named Chairman on Aug. 19, 2016, and has served in that role since. Stanton joined the Mariners ownership group in December of 2000, and became a member of the Board of Directors in 2016.

Stanton consistently leads the organization with a focus on the Mariners Mission: We are dedicated to winning championships, creating unforgettable experiences and serving our communities.

Born in Seattle and raised in Bellevue, WA, Stanton is considered a wireless industry pioneer, co-founding three national wireless operators in the United States over the past four decades.

He is currently Chairman of the Trilogy Partnerships, a private investment firm, and also serves on the boards of the Microsoft Corporation and Costco Wholesale Corporation. He is Chairman of Year Up of Puget Sound (a non-profit program for youth), and a member of the board of the Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation, after previously serving as chair (or co-chair) of the boards of Whitman College, the Business Partnership for Early Learning, the United Way of King County campaign, the Washington Roundtable and the Regional Transportation Commission.

John and his wife Terry Gillespie also own interests in the Tacoma Rainiers (Pacific Coast League) and in the Walla Walla Sweets and Yakima Pippins of the West Coast Collegiate Baseball League. He has been active in youth baseball in the area for over 25 years.

John earned a B.A. from Whitman College (Walla Walla, WA) and an MBA from Harvard Business School. John and Terry have two grown sons.

CATIE GRIGGS

President of Business Operations

Catie Griggs was named President of Business Operations for the Mariners on July 27, 2021.

She is responsible for all aspects of the Mariners business operations and has installed a laser-focus across the organization on serving Mariners fans, a commitment supported by data-driven decision making.

Under Catie's leadership, more than $50 million has been invested into T-Mobile Park to better serve Mariners fans, including the creation of a new premium space and press box, one-of-a-kind renovations to the Muckleshoot Diamond Club, and the addition of five technology-enabled grab-and-go locations, offering fans a seamless experience for getting concessions quickly without waiting in line. New, affordable ticket and menu options have also been developed to make the game more accessible for fans of all backgrounds. Catie led the charge as T-Mobile Park became the first venue to host both MLB All-Star Week (2023) and the NHL Winter Classic (2024) within a calendar year. Combined, the two events generated over $80+ million in revenue for the city of Seattle and directly engaged more than 300,000 fans.

Before joining the Mariners, Griggs spent the previous four years (2017-2021) helping build Atlanta United into one of the premier Major League Soccer franchises. She was Chief Business Officer, overseeing all aspects of the Atlanta United front office. Prior to Atlanta United, Griggs was with Futures Sport & Entertainment, as well as Turner Broadcasting.

During her career, Catie has been honored by the Sports Business Journal both as a Game Changer (2017), an annual award that honors female leaders, and 40 Under 40 (2022), an annual award recognizing the best young talent in sports business.

A North Carolina native, Griggs received her BA from Dartmouth College and her MBA from the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth. Catie and her husband, Justin, live in Seattle and have two children.

HOWARD LINCOLN

Chairman Emeritus

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer from Sept. 27, 1999 to Aug. 19, 2016, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. His service was recognized with the Seattle Mariners Franchise Achievement Award in 2016. Lincoln continues as a member of the board of directors.

On Feb. 14, 2000 Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Foundation, he is a former chairman of the Children's Hospital Foundation. He was the Campaign Chair of United Way of King County's 2003/04 Annual Campaign. Lincoln is a board member of The Washington Roundtable.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. Following graduation from law school, Lincoln served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1966 to 1970. He practiced law in Seattle from 1970 to 1983. He and his wife, Grace, reside on Mercer Island. Their son, Brad, and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ethan and Benjamin.

JOHN ELLIS

Chairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis led the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until September 27, 1999, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors.

During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. Community and fan support improved enormously – attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, T-Mobile Park.

His service was recognized with the Seattle Mariners Franchise Achievement Award in 2016.

Ellis has served variously on the MLB Executive Council, the International, Ownership and Compensation & Finance Committee and he chaired the Baseball Endowment Limited Partnership (BELP) Committee.

John started his career as a lawyer with Perkins Coie in 1953 (where he is now of counsel). He then joined Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) in 1970, where he served variously as President, C.E.O. and Chairman until his retirement in 1993. During his utility career he served nationally as Chair of the Edison Electric Institute, and the Electric Power Research Institute.

Although a loyal Husky, he was also Chair of the Board of Regents of Washington State University and Seattle University, uniquely at the same time. He has 4 children and 8 grandchildren – all Mariners fans.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

JERRY DIPOTO III

President, Baseball Operations

Jerry Dipoto (dih-POH-toe) was promoted to President, Baseball Operations on Sept. 1, 2021. Dipoto is in his ninth full season with the Mariners after he was originally hired on Sept. 28, 2015. He is the ninth full-time head of baseball operations in Mariners history.

In his first three seasons in charge (2016-18), the Mariners had the 5th-most wins in the American League, trailing only Boston, Houston, Cleveland and New York. After retooling the organization in 2019 (and the pandemic shortened 2020 season), the Mariners are again in the top-five in wins in the AL (since 2021). The teams 268 wins since 2021 are its highest total in a three-year span since 2001-2003.

Overcoming key injuries, the Mariners won 88 games in 2023, and were not eliminated from the postseason until the season's final weekend. In 2022, the Mariners posted their second-consective 90–72 record, finishing 2nd in the AL West, and advancing to the Postseason. Following the season, the Mariners were named MLB Organization of the Year by Baseball America. Seattle swept the Toronto Blue Jays in the Wild Card series before falling to Houston in the Division Series. It was the seventh time in franchise history with at least 90 wins in a season.

Prior to 2019, Dipoto led a re-imagining of the Mariners, making 8 trades in a 6-week period between Nov. 8-Dec. 21 to acquire 16 players and position a younger, more athletic, deeper, more controllable roster for greater success in the future. Beginning in 2019 and accelerating over the last three seasons, that talent has populated the Mariners Major League roster.

In 2018, Seattle won 89 games and the team's 253 wins over 2016-18 was its highest total in a three-year span since 2001-2003. In 2017, Jerry and his staff managed through a flood of injuries (22 different injured list placements) and used 61 different players, including 40 pitchers (17 starters) while remaining relevant in the wild card race into the season's final days.

In his first months on the job in 2016, Dipoto completely remade the Mariners Major League roster, as well as revamping the Mariners Major League staff, scouting and player development departments.

The reshaping of the roster and minor league system resulted in the 2016 Mariners organization playing 927 total games (at all levels) and only one -- the final regular season game for the big league club -- not having playoff implications. Each of the seven minor league affiliates advanced to the postseason.

Prior to being hired by Seattle, Dipoto was working as a Special Assistant for the Boston Red Sox. He joined the Sox after resigning from his position as the Los Angeles Angels General Manager on July 1, 2015.

Dipoto was the Angels GM from Oct. 29, 2011-July 1, 2015, helping guide the club to the American League West title in 2014, finishing with the most wins (98) in the Majors. Notable acquisitions during his Angels tenure included trades for All-Stars Huston Street, Zack Greinke, David Freese and Héctor Santiago, and the free agent signings of Albert Pujols (2011) and C.J. Wilson (2011).

In his 24th season as a baseball executive, and his 13th as a General Manager/President of Baseball Ops, Jerry got his start immediately after retiring as a player in 2001. He was a special assistant for the Colorado Rockies (2001-02), followed by two seasons working in the scouting department for the Boston Red Sox (2003-04). He returned to the Rockies as the Director of Player Personnel (2005) and then moved to the Arizona organization as Vice President of Player Personnel (2006-10) and was appointed the Diamondbacks interim General Manager on July 1, 2010. He spent the 2011 season as the D-Backs Sr. VP of Scouting and Player Development.

Dipoto appeared in 390 Major League games, all in relief, with Cleveland (1993-94), the New York Mets (1995-96) and Colorado Rockies (1997-2000). A right-handed pitcher, he compiled a career 27-24 record with 49 saves and a 4.05 ERA prior to retiring during Spring Training in 2001 with a bulging disc in his neck.

He was originally selected by Cleveland in the 3rd round of the 1989 June Draft out of Virginia Commonwealth University (Richmond, VA). Dipoto led the Rams to their first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 1988 and remains in the top 10 in VCU history in several pitching categories. Dipoto played high school baseball at Toms River High School North in New Jersey.

Jerry and his wife, Tamie, reside in Mercer Island, WA. They have two daughters: Taylor (husband Andrew) and Jordan (husband Osmond), and one son, Jonah (wife Lauren).

THE COMMISIONER'S HISTORIC ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The Commissioner's Historic Achievement Award is awarded by the Commissioner of Baseball to a group or person who has made a "major impact on the sport" of baseball. It is not an annual award; rather, the Commissioner presents it at his discretion. Dating back to 1998, The Commissioner's Historic Achievement Award has been awarded 14 times, including only once to a team. The Mariners have been part of the award three times in its history.

- The 2001 Mariners team (116 wins; only team to receive this award)
- Ichiro awarded in 2005 (single-season hit record in 2004)
- Ken Griffey Jr. awarded in 2011 (prolific career 1989-2010)

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, walks and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Percentage — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

- Longevity - Was one of only nine pitchers to make 33 starts in the Major Leagues...is the second time in his career that he has 33 games in a season (also: 2021).
- 1,000 And Counting - Recorded his 1,000th career strikeout in his outing on May 22 against Oakland after striking out Shea Langeliers to begin the 5th inning.
- Hey Now You're An All-Star - Was named to his third All-Star team on July 2 (also: 2019, 2022)...he was joined by teammates George Kirby and Julio Rodríguez.
- Nearly Perfect - Carried a perfect game into the 7th inning in his start against Colorado on April 16...earned his second win of the season after pitching 7.0 scoreless innings and allowing only 2 hits while striking out 9 batters...the last Mariners pitcher to throw a perfect game was Félix Hernández on August 15, 2012.
- For Openers - Made his 3rd career Opening Day start on March 30 vs. Cleveland and his first with the Mariners, becoming the 18th different pitcher to start on Opening Day in franchise history.
- Previously on Opening Day - Became just the 3rd Mariners starter to hold the opponent scoreless in an Opening Day start, joining Félix Hernández (2007, 2013 & 2018) and Randy Johnson (1995)...he is the first player in franchise history to toss 6.0+ scoreless innings while allowing 1-or-fewer hits on Opening Day...his game score of 76 was the highest of any Opening Day starter in 2023.
- Hot Start - Did not allow a run in either of his first 2 starts to begin the season, becoming just the third Mariners pitcher to do that, joining Félix Hernández (2007) and James Paxton (2017).
- Keeping Them In The Yard - Gave up his first home run of the season on April 28, breaking a 5-game span of allowing no home runs...this was his longest span of games to start a season without giving up a home run in his career.
- 200 Strikeout Season - Recorded 216 strikeouts, his 2nd career 200 strikeout season...he recorded 226 strikeouts in 2019.
- Innings Eater - Made 10 starts this season where he has pitched at least 7.0 innings... his 10 starts of 7.0+ innings pitched are the most in a season in his career...was tied for the 7th most 7.0+ innings pitched games in the majors in 2023 and the 2nd most on the Mariners.
- Strong Start - Had a 1.82 ERA (7 ER, 34.2 IP) through his first 6 starts of the season which his 2nd best ERA to start the season and his 4th best ERA in any single month in his career...over this 6 game span opponents hit just .189 (24x127) against him.
- Double Digits - Made 3 starts where he recorded double digits strikeouts...May 27 vs. Pittsburgh (10 strikeouts), June 9 at the Los Angeles Angels (10) and July 19 vs. Minnesota (11)...his 11 strikeouts against Minnesota was his season-high.
- Dominate the Zone - Recorded 30+ strikeouts in each month he pitched with a season-high 41 strikeouts coming in the month of July...marks the second time in his career that he has recorded 30+ strikeouts in each month that he has pitched in a season (also: 2019).
- Strikeout Standings - In his 44 starts with the Mariners he has recorded 296 strikeouts which is the most in a pitcher's first 44 starts with Seattle in franchise history.

NAMING THE MARINERS

The nickname "Mariners" was selected by the ownership of the Seattle franchise after a "Name the Team Contest" that resulted in over 15,000 entries and over 600 different names being submitted.

When the name "Mariners" was chosen, all the entries suggesting the name were reviewed for their reasons (in 25 words or less).

The winner was Roger Szmodis of Bellevue, WA. His entry read "I've selected Mariners because of the natural association between the sea and Seattle and her people, who have been challenged and rewarded by it."

2023 ALL-STARS...the Mariners had 3 players selected to the American League All-Star Team for the 93rd MLB All-Star Game, which was played at T-Mobile Park in Seattle on July 11...outfielder Julio Rodríguez (2nd All-Star appearance) and right-handed starting pitchers Luis Castillo (3rd All-Star, 1st with Mariners) and George Kirby (1st All-Star) represented Seattle...it marked the first time Seattle had 3+ All-Stars in a season since 2018, when they had 4 All-Stars: DH Nelson Cruz, RHP Edwin Díaz, OF Mitch Haniger and INF Jean Segura...2023 marked the 3rd time that Seattle hosted the MLB All-Star Game, along with the 1979 and 2001 seasons.

JULIO: HOME RUN DERBY STAR…Julio Rodríguez participated in the T-Mobile Home Run Derby at his home ballpark, T-Mobile Park, on July 10...after hitting a contest-high 81 home runs in the 2022 Derby at Dodger Stadium, Julio hit 41 home runs in the 1st round of the 2023 Derby, setting a record for most home runs hit in a HR Derby round...Vladimir Guerrero Jr.-TOR ended up winning the 2023 Derby.

KING GEORGE…George Kirby went 13-10 with a 3.35 ERA (71 ER, 190.2 IP) with 19 walks and 172 strikeouts in 31 starts...he led the Majors in both strikeout-to-walk ratio (9.05) and walks-per-9 innings (0.897), also setting Mariners records in both of those categories among qualified pitchers...Kirby joined Randy Johnson (4.52 in 1995) and Marco Gonzales (9.14 in 2020) as the only Seattle pitchers to lead the AL in strikeout-to-walk ratio in a season, and Gonzales (0.904 in 2020) as the only to lead the AL in BB/9 innings...Kirby made a staff-high 20 quality starts and 12 without a walk, the latter of which set a record for most quality starts with no walks by a pitcher age 25-or-younger in Major League history.

LA PIEDRA 'ROCKS'…Luis Castillo went 14-9 with a 3.34 ERA (73 ER, 198.0 IP) with 56 walks and 219 strikeouts in 33 starts...he became the 8th different Mariners pitcher to register a 200+ strikeout season and the 3rd righty, joining Erik Hanson (1990) and Félix Hernández (6x, 2009-14)...among American League pitchers, Castillo ranked 1st in swing-and-misses (511), T-1st in starts, T-5th in ERA, 5th in wins, 4th in strikeouts, 4th in innings pitched, 3rd in opponent batting average (.218) and 6th in WHIP (1.096).

FROM JULY ON...from July 1 through the end of the regular season, Seattle went 50-32 (.610) over their final 82 games after going 38-42 (.475) in their first 80 games...the 50-32 record from July 1-end of season was 5th-best in the Majors, trailing the Dodgers (.667/54-27), Orioles (.646/53-29), Braves (.617/50-31) and Brewers (.613/49-31).

KEEP YOUR FRIENDS CLOSE...the Mariners played in 82 games decided by 2-or-fewer runs in 2023, 4th-most in the Majors...Seattle went 42-40 (.512) in those contests...from July 20-Sept. 2, the Mariners played in 40 consecutive games in which they either won the game, or lost by 2-or-fewer runs...the streak is 6th-longest in MLB history...Seattle went 30-10 (.750) during that stretch, best record in the Majors from July 20-Sept. 2.

ART OF THE FIRST-PITCH STRIKE...the Mariners pitching staff led the Majors in first-pitch strike percentage (64.5), ranking ahead of San Francisco (63.7) and Minnesota (63.5)...left-hander Gabe Speier led the Majors with a 79.0% first-pitch strike percentage, among pitchers with at least 100 batters faced.

BASEBALL IS A GLOBAL GAME…the Mariners had 56 players appear in a game for them in 2023...exactly one-quarter (14) were born outside the United States...6 players were born in the Dominican Republic: RHP Prelander Berroa, RHP Diego Castillo, RHP Luis Castillo, OF Teoscar Hernández, OF Julio Rodríguez and RHP Juan Then...4 in Venezuela: RHP Eduard Bazardo, RHP José Rodríguez, INF Eugenio Suárez and C Luis Torrens...1 in Canada (RHP Matt Brash), 1 in Mexico (RHP Andrés Muñoz), 1 in Panama (INF José Caballero) and 1 in Portugal (RHP Isaiah Campbell).

KING FÉLIX: MARINERS HALL OF FAMER...Félix Hernández was inducted into the Mariners Hall of Fame on Aug. 12, becoming the 11th member of the HOF..."King Félix" joined Alvin Davis, Jay Buhner, Edgar Martinez, Randy Johnson, Dan Wilson, Ken Griffey Jr., Jamie Moyer, Ichiro Suzuki, broadcaster Dave Niehaus and manager Lou Piniella.

Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners Hall of Fame and Retirement of Uniform Number

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

I. Eligible Candidates -

A. Active in a Mariners uniform for a substantial and/or meaningful portion of their Major League career.

B. Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:

A. Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.

B. Made significant contributions to Mariners baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

II. Method of Selection – The Mariners governing board, the Board of Directors of Baseball of Seattle, Inc., makes the selections for the Mariners Hall of Fame. Such selections may be made at the initiative of the Board, or at the recommendation of the Chairman and the President of the Mariners, the Mariners front office, Mariners players, members of the media or the fans.

III. Criteria for Selection – The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame for players shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player. A player's impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and a player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mainers or Major League Baseball will also be considered.

The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:

1. Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;
2. A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and
3. A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

IV. Time of Selection – The Board will consider recommendations of eligible candidates at least once each year, typically at its annual business meeting each fall. There may be more than one selection in a given year, and there may be no selection at all.

V. Retirement of Uniform Number – The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, in addition to the criteria outlined above, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariners uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and spent his entire career or a substantial portion of his career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers. This determination will also be made by the Board.

VI. Amendments – The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

MARINERS RETIRED NUMBERS

KEN GRIFFEY JR.'s number 24 was retired by the Seattle Mariners on August 6, 2016 in a pre-game ceremony at T-Mobile Park…Griffey became the 1st Mariner to have his number retired by the club… Griffey's number 24 was retired at every level of the Mariners organization…prior to Griffey, only five Mariners had worn number 24; Griffey wore number 24 for 13 seasons with the Mariners, beginning with his debut in 1989 and culminating with his final season in 2010…his number 24 hangs on the facade of the 2nd deck in left-center field, immediately to the right of Jackie Robinson's number 42…Griffey was the first player to request to honor Jackie by wearing his number 42 on April 15, 1997 at Cleveland.

EDGAR MARTINEZ's number 11 was retired by the Seattle Mariners on August 12, 2017 in a pre-game ceremony at T-Mobile Park…Martinez became the 2nd Mariner to have his number retired by the club, joining his former teammate Ken Griffey Jr. (number 24)…Martinez's number 11 hangs on the facade of the 2nd deck in left-center field, immediately to the right of Griffey's number 24…wore number 11 for 18 seasons as a player (1987-2004) and 4 seasons as a Major League hitting coach (2015-18), all with the Mariners…was the 8th and final player in club history to be issued number 11…became 7th player or manager to have number 11 retired by a Major League club…has appeared in more games for Seattle than any pro athlete in city sports history.

JACKIE ROBINSON's number 42 was retired universally throughout Major League Baseball on April 15, 1997, celebrating the 50th anniversary of his ground-breaking debut… in a ceremony prior to a game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the New York Mets at Shea Stadium, Commissioner Bud Selig announced that Robinson's number 42 would be permanently retired across MLB…Robinson became the first African-American player in MLB in 1947 and was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1962.

MARINERS NO-HITTERS

RANDY JOHNSON

DATE: June 2, 1990 OPPONENT: Detroit VENUE: Kingdome CATCHER: Scott Bradley

Randy Johnson threw the first no-hitter in club history on June 2, 1990 vs. the Detroit Tigers at the Kingdome. Johnson's historic outing began with a strikeout of Tony Phillips and ended with a strikeout of Mike Heath. In between, he worked around 6 walks and a fielding error.

The defense behind Johnson that night was a who's who of Mariners legends: Harold Reynolds led off and started at 2nd base, while Alvin Davis manned 1st base, Ken Griffey Jr. patrolled center field, Edgar Martinez started at 3rd base and Jay Buhner roamed right field.

CHRIS BOSIO

DATE: April 22, 1993 OPPONENT: Boston VENUE: Kingdome CATCHER: Dave Valle

Chris Bosio was working on only three days' rest when he walked the first two Red Sox batters he faced on April 22, 1993. But Bosio bounced back to get Mike Greenwell to hit into a double play on his way to retiring 26 consecutive batters.

Seattle's infield of Tino Martinez (1B), Bret Boone (2B), Omar Vizquel (SS) and Mike Blowers (3B) backed up Bosio by successfully converting 16 groundball outs.

The second no-hitter in Mariners club history ended when Vizquel barehanded Ernie Riles' chopper over second base and fired a strike to Martinez at first base.

COMBINED NO-HITTER

DATE: June 8, 2012 OPPONENT: Los Angeles-NL VENUE: T-Mobile Park CATCHER: Jesús Montero

Six Mariners combined to no-hit the Dodgers on June 8, 2012 at T-Mobile Park.

Kevin Millwood started and faced the minimum over 6.0 no-hit innings before leaving with a right groin strain. Charlie Furbush, Stephen Pryor, Lucas Luetge, Brandon League and Tom Wilhelmsen combined to hold the Dodgers hitless over the final three innings.

It marked the 10th combined no-hitter in Major League history. Six pitchers tied the record for most in a combined no-no.

ALL-STAR GAMES IN SEATTLE

July 17, 1979 National League 7, American League 6

MVP: Dave Parker (PIT) Ceremonial First Pitch: Danny Kaye
Mariners All-Stars: Bruce Bochte (1B), Darrell Johnson (coach)

MLB's 50th All-Star Game was played at the Kingdome on July 17, 1979, in just the third season of the Mariners franchise.

The National League won 7-6, and the game featured 16 future Hall of Fame players. Both managers (Bob Lemon-AL and Tommy Lasorda-NL) have also been inducted in Cooperstown. The sellout crowd of 58,905 was a Seattle baseball record at the time. The Kingdome was considered a "home run paradise" but only two homers were hit in the game (Fred Lynn and Lee Mazzilli).

HISTORY

Mariners first baseman Bruce Bochte was greeted with a long standing ovation during pre-game introductions, and had the first hit and RBI by a Mariner in All-Star competition. Pittsburgh's Dave Parker, with a hit, an RBI and assists on two classic throws from right field to third base and home plate, was named the Game's MVP.

Mets center fielder Lee Mazzilli played a big role for the NL, belting a solo home run off Texas' Jim Kern in the 8th inning to even the score at 6-6. In the top of the 9th, Mazzilli drew a bases-loaded walk off the Yankees Ron Guidry to give the National League a 7-6 lead.

A pair of Hall of Famer pitchers got the starting assignments: Nolan Ryan for the American League and Steve Calrton for the National League.

The 50th Midsummer Classic was the first baseball game broadcast to a national audience from the Kingdome.

ALL-STAR GAMES IN SEATTLE

July 10, 2001 American League 4, National League 1

MVP: Cal Ripken Jr. (BAL) Ceremonial First Pitches: Luis Aparicio, Orlando Cepeda, Ferguson Jenkins, Juan Marichal, Tony Pérez

Mariners All-Stars: Bret Boone (2B), Mike Cameron (OF), John Olerud (1B), Edgar Martinez (DH), Ichiro Suzuki (OF), Freddy Garcia (RHP), Jeff Nelson (RHP), Kazuhiro Saaski (RHP), Lou Piniella (Coach)

The 2001 All-Star Game was played at T-Mobile Park on July 10, just two years after the ballpark opened in July, 1999. The American League won 4-1, as several great moments were celebrated.

Cal Ripken Jr. and Tony Gwynn had already announced they would retire at the end of the season, and were presented with the Commissioner's Historic Achievement Award by Bud Selig. After a prolonged ovation from the crowd of 47,364 when he came to the plate in the third inning for the first time, Cal homered on the first pitch he saw. He was later named the Game's MVP.

The Mariners, in the midst of a record-setting 116 wins, were represented by eight players. Freddy Garcia was the winning pitcher, Kazuhiro Sasaki earned the save, while Ichiro Suzuki and Mike Cameron hit safely.

Randy Johnson started the game for the National League, his final of 4 career All-Star Game starts, including 2 with the Mariners.

Mariners All-Stars: Luis Castillo (RHP), Julio Rodríguez (OF), George Kirby (RHP), Scott Servais (Coach), Jarret DeHart (Coach), Kyle Torgerson (Athletic Trainer)

The Midsummer Classic returned to T-Mobile Park in 2023, drawing over 300,000 fans across 4 days and 7 events (HBCU Swingman Classic, Playball Park, MLB Draft, Home Run Derby, Celebrity Softball and the All-Star Game).

Julio Rodríguez wowed his home fans in the Home Run Derby, clubbing a single-round competition record 41 home runs in his opening round before falling to champion Vladimir Guerrero Jr. in the semi-finals.

The National League won the game 3-2, snapping a 9-game losing streak by the NL. Elias Díaz (COL) took home MVP honors after hitting a go-ahead, pinch-hit home run in the 8th inning.

Mariners George Kirby (1.0 IP) and Rodríguez (BB) each took the field for the American League in their home ballpark.

MARINERS ALL-STAR HISTORY

The Mariners have a rich All-Star Game history. The club has hosted three All-Star Games, sent 91 players, as well as six coaches, to the Midsummer Classic and boasts three Most Valuable Players and three starting pitchers.

In 1979, the All-Star Game was played in Seattle for the first time, as the Kingdome was the site of 7-6 National League victory. The Mid-summer Classic returned to Seattle in 2001 for a 4-1 American League triumph at T-Mobile Park. Seattle hosted it's 3rd All-Star Game and 2nd at T-Mobile Park in 2023, with a 3-2 National League win.

'07 ASG MVP Ichiro Suzuki

'92 ASG MVP Ken Griffey Jr.

The Mariners first All-Star representative was outfielder Ruppert Jones in 1977. Jones was just 22 years of age at the time, and he remained the club's youngest All-Star until a 20-year-old Ken Griffey Jr. in 1990.

Griffey and Ichiro Suzuki share the club record for most All-Star Game appearances with 10 apiece. Edgar Martinez earned 7 trips to the Midsummer Classic, while Félix Hernández had 6 and Randy Johnson had 5.

Five Mariners were selected to the 2003 All-Star Game in Chicago (AL), including 40-year-olds Martinez and Jamie Moyer. The Mari-ners became the first club in All-Star Game history to have a pair of 40-year-old players appear in the same Midsummer Classic.

In 2001, Freddy Garcia earned the win, while Kazuhiro Sasaki picked up the save in front of the hometown crowd. Edwin Diaz was credited with the win in the 2018 All-Star Game.

'17 ASG MVP Robinson Canó

2014	4	Robinson Canó, Félix Hernández, Fernando Rodney, Kyle Seager
2018	4	Nelson Cruz, Edwin Díaz, Mitch Haniger, Jean Segura

This group combined for 28 All-Star Game appearances with the Mariners.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS

Three Mariners have been named Most Valuable Player of the Midsummer Classic: Ken Griffey Jr. in 1992 (at San Diego), Ichiro Suzuki in 2007 (at San Francisco) and Robinson Cano in 2017 (at Miami).

HOME RUNS AT THE ALL-STAR GAME

Griffey, Suzuki and Cano headline a list of six Mariners who have homered in the All-Star Game. They are joined by Edgar Martinez, who went deep of Greg Maddux at the 1997 summer showcase in Cleveland. One year later, Alex Rodriguez hit a solo home run off Andy Ashby in Denver. In 2018, Jean Segura pinch hit in the 8th inning and belted a go-ahead, three-run homer off Josh Hader in Washington, D.C.

STARTING PITCHERS

The two most successful pitchers in club history are also the only two Mariners pitchers to earn the starting nod in an All-Star Game.

Randy Johnson entered the 1995 All-Star Break with a record of 9-1, having struck out 152 batters in 109.1 innings of work. The Big Unit was on his way to his first career Cy Young Award when he was named the starting pitcher for the American League by manager Buck Showalter. Johnson worked 2.0 scoreless innings at The Ballpark in Arlington, fanning Barry Bonds, Fred McGriff and Ron Gant. Two years later, Johnson was again tabbed to start for the AL by manager Joe Torre. He tossed 2.0 scoreless innings in Cleveland, fanning Bonds and Craig Biggio.

In the first half of 2014, Félix Hernández ranked among the top-2 American League leaders in wins, ERA, innings and strikeouts, earning the start for the AL from manager John Farrell. Hernández struck out Yasiel Puig and Troy Tulowitzki in 1.0 scoreless inning in Minneapolis.

MISCELLANEOUS

T-MOBILE PARK

T-Mobile Park is the home of the Seattle Mariners. Since the Inaugural Game on July 15, 1999, more than 50,000,000 fans have passed through the gates of the ballpark.

The Mariners are truly a regional team, drawing from one of the largest geographic home territories in Major League Baseball – Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Alaska and parts of Western Canada. We have learned from surveys that over half our fans come from outside King County, and nearly half (48%) tell us they travel more than one hour to get to the ballpark on game days.

Once they arrive at T-Mobile Park, fans are treated to one of the best ballparks in baseball, with a combination of the charm of a classic ballpark and the modern touches that make a fan's game experience that much better, including free WiFi and one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB.

Sightlines from all seating areas are designed for optimal viewing. There are plenty of places to gather and casually watch the game while enjoying the beauty of the natural surroundings of Puget Sound and the downtown Seattle skyline.

In addition to baseball, T-Mobile Park has hosted such events as varied as U.S. Men's soccer matches, Women's Gold Cup Soccer, the 2001 Seattle Bowl NCAA football game, WWE's Wrestlemania XIX, the WIAA State High School Baseball Championships, high school and collegiate baseball games, major concerts, numerous graduations, weddings, proms, trade shows, birthday parties and holiday celebrations.

Over the years, T-Mobile Park has received numerous honors and appeared on many Top 10 and "best" lists. The ballpark was one of only two Seattle buildings to be named in the American Institute of Architects poll of America's favorite buildings. Opposing players have named it their second favorite ballpark to play in, behind Wrigley Field (MLB.com players' survey). ESPN.com staff and readers named the ballpark among their Top 10 in separate surveys, and noted travel guidebook Zagat ranked T-Mobile Park one of the top family-friendly attractions in the nation.

T-Mobile Park has achieved something fans, public officials and the Mariners ownership craved for most of the franchise's history – stability for Major League Baseball in the Northwest. The public-private partnership that built the ballpark resulted in a beautiful facility for all to enjoy and a solid foundation for the Seattle Mariners. The Mariners 25-year lease agreement with the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District obligates the Mariners to pay over $600 million to maintain and improve T-Mobile Park to ensure that it remains in first-class condition and among the best ballparks in baseball.

FISHEL AWARD RECIPIENTS

The Robert O. Fishel Award goes to the "active, non-uniformed representative of Major League Baseball whose ethics, character, dedication, service, professionalism and humanitarianism best represent the standards propounded by Robert O. Fishel…the Mariners have had two recipients, Randy Adamack (2005) and Tim Hevly (2013).

RETRACTABLE ROOF

During the 2021 season, the T-Mobile Park retractable roof was closed (or moved during play) in 12 of 81 (14.8%) home games. By comparison, during the last full season (2019), the roof was closed (or moved) in 14 of 81 (17.3%) games. Since T-Mobile Park opened in July 1999, the roof has been in use during 379 of 1,772 games (21.4%). The roof is necessary to guard against the risk of a rain out. With almost half of all fans reporting that they drive an hour or more to get to T-Mobile Park, fans are assured that if they make the trip, they'll see a ballgame.

T-Mobile Park's retractable roof covers but does not enclose the field and seating areas, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure has a footprint of nearly nine acres, weighs 22 million pounds, and contains enough steel to build a 55-story skyscraper. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 10-horsepower electric motors. The roof can extend or retract in 10-20 minutes, depending on weather conditions.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

T-Mobile Park is home to one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB. The LED technology Sanyo system measures 56.7' high by 201.5' wide. The total viewing area, 11,425 square feet, is equal to about 2,182 42-inch flat screen TVs. The 1080p x 3840 screen resolution provides image quality that is superior to broadcast HD signals. The video screen can be programmed for live action or video replays, split into sectors for graphics and animation and statistical data. The videoscreen integrates seamlessly with the Out-of-Town LED board and the LED ribbon boards on the Terrace Club fascia.

PLAYING FIELD

T-Mobile Park's playing surface is designed for the Northwest climate and the retractable roof. The 100% Kentucky bluegrass turf provides a durable playing surface that grows well despite low levels of direct sunlight. The retractable roof can remain closed, if needed, for six consecutive days without harming the grass. The entire playing surface was rebuilt after the 2017 season and new sod was installed prior to the 2020 season.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

T-Mobile Park's concessions and catering services are provided by Centerplate, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. Fans will find a variety of fresh, high-quality choices from the Northwest and around the world available at the ballpark including local favorites such as Ivar's and Kidd Valley. T-Mobile Park consulting chef Javier Rosa has created a variety of menu items including grass-fed burgers, house-made BBQ beef and Dungeness crab sandwiches, all using fresh, local ingredients. Fans will also find sushi and other Asian delicacies, organic, gluten-free and vegetarian options, as well as classic ballpark fare. The Hit it Here Café and Edgar's Cantina provide seating before and during games, and the members-only Terrace Club, KeyBank Diamond Club, Emerald Queen All-Star Club, private and group suites offer a selection of creative and delicious food.

SPECIAL FEATURES

T-Mobile Park has a number of unique and interesting areas for fans to enjoy before and during games. The T-Mobile 'Pen is an event-within-an-event. Located behind left and center field, the area features premium concessions from chef Stowell including his brick oven Ballard Pizza, The Rail bar and Caught Looking Lounge, a Seattle Mariners Team Store, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks. The terraces behind the center field fence offer a lively atmosphere to meet and mingle with other fans and one of the best views of the game.

Newly remodeled (and renamed), the Trident Deck is located at the end of the left field line on the 300 (View) Level. The full service bar with a casual backyard-like feel has bench seating and picnic tables. The space is available for sale to groups during games and open to all fans when not in use for group events.

The new Rooftop Boardwalk above the Home Plate Gate Rotunda on the View Level includes a raised walkway for enhanced views of Puget Sound, bench seating and tables, monitors, destination concession stands, a new bar area, and Kids Corner baseball themed activities. The space is available for sale to groups for pregame events and open to all fans at game time.

The Terrace Club has two new seating concepts with the addition of 18 Terrace Club Tables that accommodate four people each as well as 10 Terrace Club Loge Boxes with padded sofa-style seats that accommodate up to four guests. Both concepts include video monitors, charging stations for mobile devices and in-seat wait staff service with exclusive menu options.

The Seattle Children's Playfield is located on the Main Concourse in center field. It lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-themed playground equipment. Next to the Playfield is Moose's Munchies, a concession stand just for kids featuring menu items like peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, small hot dogs, Cracker Jack and soft drinks, all served in a souvenir plastic bucket.

Immediately outside the Playfield is the Seattle Children's Wishing Well. Coins tossed into the Wishing Well are donated to Seattle Children's to support patient care.

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame provide a connection to the region's rich baseball history. They are co-located on the Main Concourse along the third base line and are open to all fans during games.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round with one of the world's largest selections of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women and children. The Kid's Clubhouse, located next to the Children's Playfield, caters to children and youth.

Works by 11 Northwest artists are incorporated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage. The ambitious $1.3 million public art program includes a variety of installations that celebrate the game of baseball including a huge bronze mitt outside the Left Field Gate and a chandelier of 1,000 translucent, regulation-sized baseball bats above the Home Plate Gate grand staircase.

SUSTAINABILITY

The Seattle Mariners are committed to operating the franchise and T-Mobile Park in an environmentally responsible manner. In 2017, these efforts earned the Mariners the "Green Glove Award" for the highest recycling rate in Major League Baseball (96%). Every year since 2010, the Mariners have been named American League recycling champions.

In 2015, T-Mobile Park became the first MLB ballpark to illuminate the playing field with LED lights. The lights reduce glare and shadows on the field providing a better experience for players and fans (both at the ballpark and watching at home on HD TV). The lights use 60% less power and have a lifespan of 30-years (vs. three years for the old metal halide lights).

An array of solar panels on the roof of the skybridge to the Mariners parking garage generate 40,000-kilowatt hours of power annually and four electric vehicle charging stations are available to the public year round.

Through conservation and capital investments, the Mariners have made great strides in reducing consumption of electricity, water and natural gas, significantly reducing the team's impact on the environment.

BALLPARK HISTORY

March 30, 1994 – King County Executive Gary Locke appoints a 28-member task force to assess the need for cost, potential location and advisability of public investment in a new Major League Baseball stadium.
January 11, 1995 – Stadium Alternative Task Force recommends public involvement in financing a new MLB stadium.
September 19, 1995 – A proposal to increase the sales tax by .01% in King County to pay for construction of the ballpark is narrowly defeated by voters.
October 14, 1995 – A special session of the Washington State Legislature authorizes a different funding package for a new stadium that includes a car rental surcharge, a ballpark admissions tax, a King County food and beverage tax in restaurants, a credit against the state sales tax and sale of special stadium-themed license plates.
October 23, 1995 – King County Council approves the funding package and establishes the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District (PFD) to own the ballpark and oversee its design, construction and operation.
January 29, 1996 – Seattle-based NBBJ is chosen by the PFD Board as the project architect.
April 1996 – Hunt-Kiewit is chosen by the PFD Board as general contractor for construction of the ballpark.
September 9, 1996 – The ballpark site is selected south of the Kingdome between Royal Brougham Way and South Atlantic Street.
March 8, 1997 – 30,000 people turn out as Ken Griffey Jr. helps officially break ground for the new ballpark.

BASEBALL MUSEUM OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and the Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame is located on the Main Concourse (100-level) of T-Mobile Park, opposite sections 132-136. It is open to all fans during every Mariners home game.

With the assistance of noted local baseball historian Dave Eskenazi, the museum tells the story of the rich history of the game of baseball in the Pacific Northwest from the 1880's to today, and displays interesting artifacts, photos and exhibits. The museum space originally opened in 2007. Each year, elements of the displays are updated.

The Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the best of Mariners Baseball. There are 11 current inductees – Alvin Davis (inducted in 1997), Dave Niehaus (2000), Jay Buhner (2004), Edgar Martinez (2007), Randy Johnson (2012), Dan Wilson (2012), Ken Griffey Jr. (2013), Lou Piniella (2014), Jamie Moyer (2015), Ichiro Suzuki (2022) and Félix Hernández (2023).

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest was funded through the proceeds of the sale of personalized brick pavers, which are located in The Pen. A total of 12,500 pavers were sold to fans by the Washington State Major League Baseball Public Facilities District (PFD).

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, Seattle Mariners and San Diego Padres opened the Peoria Sports Complex in 1994, the first shared spring training facility in Arizona. Peoria Stadium is the centerpiece of the complex, which includes five and a half practice fields as well as headquarters for both teams on 145 acres.

- Peoria Stadium underwent extensive renovations in 2016 and 2017, adding seats, two fan pavilion areas and an expanded Team Store. The park seats 12,518 fans. The dimensions of the outfield are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.
- Complex is located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, just off Loop 101.
- The Mariners used the Padres facilities in the spring training of 1993, when the Seattle club played all its Cactus League games on the road.
- From the Mariners inception in 1977 through 1992, Tempe Diablo Stadium was the spring home of the Mariners.
- The Mariners facilities are used in the summer by their Peoria team (Arizona League), and in the fall for Arizona Fall League baseball.
- The Peoria Sports Complex is “green” and environmentally friendly, and promotes renewable, clean energy. The rooftop solar panels supply nearly half of the facility’s annual energy use.

The team Spring Training facilities are LEED Gold certified. LEED certified buildings save money and resources and have a positive impact on the health of occupants, while promoting renewable, clean energy. LEED, or Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design, is a green building certification program that recognizes best-in-class building strategies and practices.

T-MOBILE PARK GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If a batted ball if caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a dead ball, regardless of where it lands or is caught by a fielder.

Outfield Area

Netting in the right field corner in foul territory is above and beyond the wall. A batted ball that bounds into the netting is a dead ball whether or not it rebounds onto the playing field: Two Bases.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

KINGDOME FAREWELL

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

BROADCASTERS

RICK RIZZS, the Mariners primary voice on radio, is in his 39th season with the broadcast team in 2024. In 2020, his 35 seasons with the Mariners surpassed Dave Niehaus as the longest-tenured broadcaster in club history. Rick has been a part of the Mariners broadcast team continuously since 1995, following an original nine-year stint with the club from 1983-1991.

Rick received the 2017 Keith Jackson Award from the Seattle Sports Commission for excellence in communicating the sports stories of our state.

Rick is a 1975 graduate of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. From 1975-80, he handled double-A baseball play-by-play duties for Alexandria, Amarillo and Memphis. He became the sports director at WBNS radio in Columbus, Ohio in 1981, where he called Ohio State football and Triple-A baseball for two seasons. He was named the Ohio "Sportscaster of the Year" in 1981 by the Ohio Sportscasters Association. Rick was originally hired to broadcast Mariners games in 1983 and spent nine seasons with the club. In 2000, Rick was named the Chicago-area sportscaster of the year by the Chicago Pitch and Hit Club. He also spent three seasons calling the play-by-play with Bob Rathbun on radio for the Detroit Tigers from 1992-94.

Throughout the year, Rick also heads Toys For Kids, a non-profit he co-founded in 1995. In 2023, Toys for Kids raised $1.1 million and donated toys for 20,000 homeless and hospitalized children and presented 14 $5,000 college scholarship awards in honor of Dave Henderson. Rick resides in Issaquah. His son, Nick, passed away in Nov. 2023. Rick has two grandsons, Jaxon and Braedon, and one granddaughter, Ryan.

DAVE SIMS is in his 18th season with the Mariners broadcast team in 2024. He has won 3 consecutive Washington Sportscaster of the Year awards (2018-20) from the National Sports Media Association. Sims, who has play-by-play duties on Mariners TV broadcasts, is familiar to sports fans for calling MLB and college basketball games on ESPN, as well as NCAA Basketball and NFL play-by-play on Westwood One.

He co-hosts “Basketball & Beyond with Coach K” for Sirius XM with former Duke University men's basketball coach Mike Krzyzewski, is a correspondent for MLB Network and calls Big East college basketball on FS1. The two-time Emmy Award winner also won the American Football Foundation's Outstanding Sportscaster Award in 2003 and the Big East Media Award in 2005. Sims began his career as a sportswriter for the New York Daily News prior to becoming a weekend sports anchor at WCBS-TV. In 1991, he joined ESPN as a play-by-play announcer for college basketball. From 1998-2014, he did NFL play-by-play, including Sunday Night and Monday Night Football, as well as the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, for Westwood One.

Sims grew up in Philadelphia and graduated from Bethany College in West Virginia. From 1998-2007, Sims and his wife Abby ran "AthletiSense," an athletes media coaching program that worked with football and basketball teams in the PAC-12, Big East, Big 12, Atlantic 10, and Mountain West. They have two sons, and two granddaughters.

MIKE BLOWERS, who enters his 18th season as the Mariners television analyst, is a long-time fan favorite who played 3 stints with the Mariners (1992-95, '97, '99). Prior to joining the Mariners broadcast team in 2007, Blowers spent four years as the pre- and post-game analyst on KOMO 1000 News broadcasts of Mariners games. Blowers was a stand-out at Bethel High School in Spanaway, WA, and was a Pac-10 Triple Crown winner while with the University of Washington. During his 11-year MLB career, Blowers also played for the Yankees (1989-91), Dodgers (1996) and Athletics (1998). He played in the postseason with the Mariners in 1995 and 1997. During Seattle's memorable 1995 season, he set career highs in almost every statistical category, including 113 hits, 24 doubles, 23 homers and 96 RBI. He tied a Major League record with three grand slams in a single month in August of '95, when he hit .283 with nine homers and a club-record tying 33 RBI. Blowers received the first-ever "Unsung Hero" award from the Seattle chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 1993. He was originally selected by the Montreal Expos in the 10th round of the 1986 June draft. After being traded to the Yankees on Aug. 29, 1989, Blowers made his Major League debut with the Yankees on Sept. 1 vs. California.He made his first ML start against the Mariners on Sept. 5, 1989. Blowers lives in Graham, with his wife Nicole and their four children.

AARON GOLDSMITH enters his 12th season with the Mariners broadcast team in 2024. Goldsmith calls Mariners baseball on radio and TV, and is actively involved in non-game related broadcasting, including the Mariners Hot Stove Show, Cactus League Report and Sunday Mariners Magazine. He also hosts The Wheelhouse with Jerry Dipoto, a podcast with the Mariners President of Baseball Operations. Aaron broadcasts Major League Baseball, college football and college basketball on FOX, FS1 and Pac-12 Network.

A St. Louis, Mo., native, Aaron graduated from Principia College in Elsah, IL, with a BA in history. After college he attended the Broadcast Center in St. Louis, earning a certificate in Radio Broadcasting and Production. He spent the 2012 season as the lead announcer for the Triple-A Pawtucket Red Sox. Prior to joining Pawtucket, Goldsmith spent the 2010 and 2011 seasons as the radio broadcaster for the Frisco RoughRiders, the Double-A affiliate of the Texas Rangers. He also served as the team's Manager of Broadcasting/Media Development. In 2009, Aaron was the broadcaster/studio host for the Portland Sea Dogs, the Red Sox Double-A affiliate in the Eastern League. Goldsmith began his broadcast career in 2007 with the Gateway Grizzlies in the independent Frontier League, and called the Bourne Braves games in the Cape Cod Baseball League in 2008. Aaron lives in Seattle with his wife and three children.

GARY HILL JR. enters his 7th season as the Executive Producer/ Engineer for all Mariners radio broadcasts in 2024. The Tacoma native joined the club full-time in 2018 after spending 8 seasons in a variety of roles with the Mariners Radio Network from 2010-2017.

Since 2010, Gary has hosted Mariners pre- and post-game shows, filled in on play-by-play duties, hosted the Mariners official daily podcast and contributed to the Sunday Mariners Magazine. In his current role, he continues to have an on-air presence as a member of the Mariners broadcast team. After graduating from Washington State University in 2000, Gary has been a fixture on local sports radio, covering baseball, basketball and football. He is also currently the voice of University of Washington women's basketball. Gary resides in Burien, Wash., with his wife, Mary, children, Finley and Baker, and dog Satchel.

DAN WILSON is in his 14th season as a regular contributor to Mariners TV and radio broadcasts in 2024.

The Mariners Hall of Famer played more games as a catcher than any other player in Mariners history (1,281). He played 14 seasons, 2 with Cincinnati (1992-93) and 12 with the Mariners (1994-2005). The Barrington, IL native attended the University of Minnesota and was selected by the Reds in the 1st round (7th overall) of the 1990 MLB First-Year Player Draft.

Since 2014, Wilson has worked in the Mariners organization including the last five as a Special Assistant for Player Development. He resides in Seattle with his wife, Annie, and their four children: daughters Sofia and Josephine and sons Elijah and Abraham.

SPANISH BROADCASTER

STEVEN GUASCH is in his 2nd season as Spanish play-by-play voice of the Mariners broadcast team in 2024. As a current Salsa music producer and band leader, Steve passionately shares his unique skill set with to the broadcasting team. Born in Manhattan, NY and raised in Bayamon, PR. Guasch has been a resident of Washington State since 1987.

In addition to being a broadcaster, Guasch previously served in the United States Army in Ft Lewis, WA. In 2013, Steve joined the Seattle Seahawks Spanish broadcast team with ESPN Deportes Radio as an on-air analyst, commentator, and engineer. He is currently working as a licensed Real Estate broker in Washington State and is continuing to pursue his career in music performance and production with Salsaneo Records. He is currently living in Lynnwood, WA with his wife Zulma and two children, Zulma and Jesse.

ROOT SPORTS Northwest is the television home of Mariners Baseball, carrying every Mariners regular season game (except games restricted by MLB national agreements) as well as nine spring training games in 2024.

ROOT SPORTS Northwest is distributed to approximately 3.2 million homes through the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska. All games are produced in high definition. For seven consecutive years, the regional sports network has been the recipient of EMMY Awards for the quality of its production.

In addition to spring training and regular season games, Mariners programming includes pre and post-game shows, the Batting Practice Show before most Saturday home games, and the weekly Mariners All-Access, which includes behind-the-scenes features, instruction and other unique aspects of Mariners Baseball.

All games televised by ROOT SPORTS Northwest are available in high definition.

SPANISH AUDIO FEED: ROOT SPORTS Northwest provides a Spanish-language feed of all Mariners home games telecasts. The feed is available to all ROOT affiliates (cable, satellite, etc.) which provide Secondary Audio Programming (SAP) to their subscribers.

PRE-GAME WORKOUT SCHEDULE

For home games, the Mariners clubhouse opens 3 hours, 50 minutes prior to game time and closes when the Mariners take the field for batting practice.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

1890: The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.

1892: The Reds (first-half champions) won the PNL Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.

1896: Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).

1903: The AAA Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves played in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).

1906-17: Seattle ended its membership in the PCL and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.

1919: Seattle re-joined the PCL. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 PCL season).

1937: Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Mr. Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).

1938: On June 15, the Rainiers moved into Sick's Seattle Stadium (capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson went 25-7 in his rookie season.

1939-41: The Rainiers won three consecutive PCL pennants.

1946: Seattle Steelheads of West Coast Negro Baseball League played the inaugural game of their only season on June 1 vs. San Diego Tigers at Sicks' Stadium.

1955: Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another PCL crown. In addition, the first official proposal for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).

1960: Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox AAA affiliate.

1965-68: The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last PCL baseball championship in 1966.

1967: Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).

1969: An expansion team, the Seattle Pilots came into existence and began play in the American League. Sicks Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500.

1970: On March 31, financial difficulties resulted in the Pilots moving to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.

1972-76: Seattle fielded a team in the Class-A Northwest League.

1977: On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.

1979: The 50th MLB All-Star Game was played at the Kingdome on July 17. The NL defeated the AL 7-6.

1995: On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.

1999: On June 27, Mariners played their last game in Kingdome, defeating Texas 5-2.

1999: On July 15, Seattle played its first game in the new outdoor ballpark, T-Mobile Park, against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.

2001: On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.

2012: On Aug. 15 vs. Tampa Bay, Félix Hernández threw the first perfect game in club history.

2016: On July 24 in Cooperstown, NY, Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame as a Mariner.

2019: On July 21 in Cooperstown, NY, Edgar Martinez became the second Mariner to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

2020: Played a 60-game shortened season, beginning in late-July, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic that struck the world in March.
